

XM radio is a pay service, and you have no right to try and stop me from listening to a better sounding, better variety, and all around better quality programming. Have you listened to radio recently, oh of course you do because your trying to put Howard Stern off the air too. If it is offensive to you or others, here is a novel concept.....turn off the radio, or change the station, or even better get XM. Please reject the NAB's petition 04-160. XM and Sirius are good for business, the NAB is just upset because their backers are going to have to spend alot of their money upgrading their services to compete with satellite radio rather than lining their pockets!

sincerely,
Kevin M. Simoneau